COUNCILLOR'S APOLOGY

EDDC member Allen is forced to say 'sorry'

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A DISTRICT councillor has issued a full apology after failing to treat two fellow councillors with respect.

As previously reported, an East Devon District Council (EDDC) standards committee found that Councillor Mike Allen (Cons, Honiton St Michael's) had brought his office into disrepute.

The complaints were filed in November last year and refer to meetings of EDDC's Local Development Framework (LDF) Panel, chaired by councillor Allen.

The EDDC standards committee met in May and found that Councillor Allen had failed to treat fellow councillors Roger Giles (Ind, Ottery Town) and Claire Wright (Ind, Ottery Rural) with respect.

At the time, Councillor Allen indicated that he did not accept the findings of a report prepared for the committee.

After the verdict, the committee ruled that Councillor Allen should pen a formal letter of apology to the council as a whole for his "unacceptable treatment" of the two councillors and for his "failings as a chairman".

It was also ruled that he should undergo relevant training, including media awareness.

The ruling said: "The committee recognised the seriousness of the breaches but took into account the hard work carried out by councillor Allen, the challenges he faced as chairman, his lack of experience as a chairman and as a district councillor."

Councillor Allen did write a letter of apology, which was circulated to councillors when full council met on Wednesday, October 10th.

Among other things, councillor Allen wrote: "At the LDF panel on August 16th, 2011, I did not treat councillor Wright with respect.

"At the LDF panel on November 1st I did not treat councillors Giles and Wright with respect.

"By my treatment of Councillor Giles, I brought my office into disrepute."

There were also apologies in relation to comments he made about Councillor Giles to Pulman's View.

Referring to the November 1st meeting, councillor Allen also wrote: "I do agree that I should have asked for a vote on the issue according to the constitution and therefore unreservedly apologise to Councillor Giles and the council for my inadvertent breach of paragraph 3(1) of the code of conduct."

Councillor Allen also wrote that he had already apologised to councillor Wright at a conciliation meeting.

The letter concluded: "I hope that you will accept my sincere apologies acknowledging these mistakes."

"I do acknowledge once again, and apologise, that I made errors out of ignorance rather than any malice and regard the best way of showing repentance is by action rather than words.

"So I hope and trust that council will accept my sincerity, with my immediate retraining and an outstanding further request already made to discuss these issues with the monitoring officer and chief executive."

Still tough for The Vikings

SIDMOUTH Town's tough start to the season continued on Saturday. The Vikings, looking all-set for a morale-boosting point from the visit of Galmpton United, suffered the heartache of conceding late-on to lose 2-1 (see report on page 61).

The Vikings, with no fixture scheduled for this Saturday, have time to regroup as they continue their search for a first win of the season.

Meanwhile, Feniton hammered Tipton St John 7-0 at Acland Park to reach the last eight of the East Devon Senior cup. Fenny are also rumoured as about to be boosted by the arrival of veteran 'keeper Brian Cann from Toolstation League outfit Willand Rovers.

Fenny return to Devon & Exeter League action at the weekend when they entertain the Exeter University students Reserve team.

Down in division one Sidbury United moved up to second spot after Sam Elstrub scored twice in a 4-1 home win over Culm United.

In division three there were useful home wins for both Upottery and Offwell.

NEWS AT A GLANCE IN EAST DEVON THIS WEEK

AXMINSTER

Do-it-yourself flood scheme

AS A LOCAL authority struggles to identify the owner of a flood-prone culvert, an Axminster man has decided to build his own flood defence.

Malcolm Reynolds labelled the inability to establish ownership as "disgusting" and hopes his wall will provide some protection.

Mr Reynolds lives next to the Millbrook stream in Willhay Lane, which has been badly hit by flooding.

A culvert under Willhay Lane is being blamed, but establishing who owns it has proved extremely difficult.

Network Rail accepts ownership of the culvert under the nearby railway, but the section under Willhay Lane remains a mystery

After the most recent case of flooding - on September 23rd and 24th - Mr Reynolds said: "I have been again and again asking the authorities to do something about the inadequate culvert underneath the bridge that spans the lane but I am falling on deaf ears."

He has since decided to take alternative action, and told Pulman's View. "I decided to build a complete wall at my own expense.

"It is not covered by insurance and is costing quite a lot of money. I'm taking action as best I can but my property is still at risk from water having to pass by and breaching further up and down the stream."

The quest to identify the owner of the culvert surfaced at Axminster Town Council's meeting

Mayor Andrew Moulding, who is also a county and district councillor, said that that Devon County Council (DCC) was on the case.

But town Jeremy Walden was afraid that could be the case for a long time, and asked: "When does DCC stop looking?"

Councillor Moulding replied: "Don't worry. We don't want to let this disappear into an abyss."

Crossing concerns

A NEW pedestrian crossing in Axminster has been been blamed for causing tailbacks.

The crossing outside Axminster Primary School in Stoney Lane came as part of a package also including a footpath after a long campaign by local residents. It was opened in time for the current school term, but not all are happy.

Councillor Susan Spiller told Axminster Town Council that she had been toldby several motorists that the new arrangement was causing hold-ups to traffic.

So richly deserved...

THIS newspaper is never slow in recognising the achievements of those who go that extra mile to make our communities a better place to live and work.

Many of such deeds, often carried out for dozens of years, often go unrecognised.

That's why we are pleased to report in this week's Sidmouth and Honiton editions that the work of two of East Devon's most respected citizens have been recognised .

Joy Seaward, of Sidmouth, and Offwell's Eileen Rooke have been awarded the British Empire Medal for their services to the community.

Joy was recognised for her 40 years leading the town's Britain In Bloom campaigns which has brought much publicity to Sidmouth and Ellen, 81 years young, was honoured for her work over many years for the Honiton Support Group for Hospiscare.

They were among nine such awards across Devon and received their medals from Devon's Lord Lieutenant Eric Dancer CBE. Both awards are richly deserved.

◆ I WAS castigated last week by an irate reader (rarely a week goes by when I'm not!) who questioned my assertion that the former Axminster to Lyme Regis railway branch line was known as "The Bluebell Line".

I was unable to discuss this with him because he rudely slammed the phone down before the call could be put through to me.

I can't remember whether the Axminster-Lyme line was officially known as "The Bluebell Line" but locals certainly referred to it as such because of the proliferation of bluebells along the winding route.

The chap in question said I was getting mixed up with "The Bluebell Railway" from East Grinstead to Lewis in Sussex where, incidentally, one of the "Puffin' Billy" steam trains that used to run between Axminster and Lyme went on display.

COLYTON

Council reject plea for meeting change

COLYTON parish councillors have refused to move their meetings to alternative venues, which would offer better disabled access.

Councillors were asked to consider a proposal to move all their meetings from the upstairs boardroom at Colyton Town Hall to the Peace Memorial Playing Fields Pavilion, to comply with the Equality Act.

The proposal came from Councillor Alan Davis, who is currently suffering from leukaemia, but he emphasised at last week's meeting that the request was not for him – he had written the original report on the boardroom's poor access two years ago, before he was diagnosed.

Councillor Stehpen Real asked if Councillor Davis had looked into what bookings were made in the pavilion for Monday night.

Councillor Davis said: "We own the pavilion. Sorry, but we do. Surely we could ask the users to move to another night or change the council meeting night to another day.

"I think this council has to take full account of this proposal and must comply with the Equality Act."

He emphasised that he would like to see all council meetings moved to the pavilion, including committee meetings."

Councillor Collier received no seconder for his proposal, but the original proposal to move the meetings was still defeated, with just four councillors voting in favour of it.

SEATON

Access all-clear despite local fears

A LICENCE for access across Windsor Gardens is to be granted by East Devon District Council despite concerns from Seaton residents.

A ta town council meeting, members of the public, chamber of commerce, local businesses and the United Reformed Church on Cross Street expressed reservations over the licence.

The public forum concluded that the licence would cause great commotion in the town to both traffic and operating businesses and services.

Church representatives complained that funeral services and church occasions would lose dignity with noise pollution and eye sores from the building site, whilst Marcus Hartnell of the Chamber of Commerce supported Seaton Town Council stating that businesses on Cross Street were sure to suffer.

EDDC's Deputy Portfolio Holder for the Environment, Councillor Phil Twiss, is in agreement with the granting of the licence now that all reasonable efforts have been made to address concerns from interested parties.

SIDMOUTH/HONITON

Two rewarded for community service

A SIDMOUTH in Bloom stalwart has received her British Empire Medal.

Joy Winifred Seward was of nine Devon residents named in the Queen's Birthday Honours list in June. She was named in the list for her services to the community through Sidmouth in Bloom.

The Queen's representative in the county, Devon Lord Lieutenant Eric Dancer CBE JP, hosted an awards ceremony in County Hall, Exeter, last week.

He said: "These people are true community champions."

Joy has, for more than 40 years, served her community in Sidmouth as the president and chief executive of Sidmouth in Bloom. She has worked tirelessly, often at her own expense and in her own time, to facilitate, organise, encourage and motivate local townspeople, councillors, schools and other representative and trade bodies to engage fully in the objectives of Sidmouth in Bloom.

A FOUNDING member of the Honiton Support Group for Hospiscare has been awarded a British Empire Medal for her work within the community.

Eileen Rooke, 81, who lives in Offwell, first found out the news of her award in early May, and was pleased to finally accept the award.

The grandmother of 12 has dedicated her life to voluntary work supporting the Honiton Hospiscare Fund

Dedicated staff team receive recognition

SEEABILITY'S SPECIAL STAFF: Deputy manager, Denise Turner, employee of the year, Julie Woodman and winner of manager of the year, Annie Leinster

A MANAGER for SeeAbility in Honiton has been selected from people across the southwest for manager of the year.

Annie Leinster, SeeAbility registered manager of support services in Honiton took the award at SeeAbility's recent annual meeting.

Also recognised was Julie Woodman of Honiton who won Employee of the Year for Direct Support whilst Deputy Manager Denise Turner and Matt Gaunt picked up a commendation for their work.

SeeAbility, formerly the Royal School for the Blind, supports adults with a visual impairment and additional disabilities through encouraging independence and fulfilling individual potential.

The supported living service in Honiton enables eight adults with multiple disabilities to live in their own self-contained flats and be part of the local community.

Annie, who has managed SeeAbility's Honiton Supported Living service since 2010, was selected for her creative approach to managing the service and being able to develop innovative systems to ensure that it became an example of excellence in all aspects of providing support.

She said: "I am absolutely delighted to win this award and I am lucky enough to be part of a dedicated team of staff who consistently aim to provide support which will enrich the lives of the individuals in our service.

"Being able to listen and respond to any issues which cause problems for the staff from time to time has helped me to devise systems which work for everyone.

"I've been able to introduce a 'personalised work plan' that has included extra coaching or training and all staff are able to report about any difficulties that may arise so that we can avoid them in future.

"I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Julie, Denise and Matt as well as everyone in the team."

As well as the bigger picture, smaller details matter to Annie. One of the individuals is the Chair of one of SeeAbility's User Groups, which exists to give a voice to those who use the service.

Annie supports him voluntarily so that he can do this valuable role so it doesn't impinge on the support hours he receives each week to do the other leisure activities he enjoys.

In addition to her work as manager, Annie is currently studying for a BA (hons) in Leadership and Management through Bournemouth University with support from Devon County Council.

Falconer bids farewell after season at Escot

ESCOT'S falconer, Jonathan Marshall of Experience Falconry, will not be returning in 2013.

An Escot spokesperson said: "Experience Falconry Ltd, who has provided the daily flying displays and summer jousting events this year, will not be doing so next year but this most certainly does not mean the end of falconry at Escot.

"Escot is confident that a new falconer will be in place in time for the start of the spring season, as usual.

"Escot would like to thank Jonathan and Adam for their hard work during 2012 and wish them every success for the future."

Jonathan, who introduced new and exciting falconry demonstrations with his two horses as well as his majestic golden eagle Samson, said: "I am sorry to be leaving Escot as I have met many wonderful people over the summer months.

"I have really enjoyed creating excitement and enthusiasm among the visitors and sharing my beautiful birds and horses with so many people.

"I am currently in meetings with several attractions in the south west with a view to developing something very special.

"If people want to kept abreast of progress they could follow us on facebook or our website www.experiencefalconry.co.uk."

Cyclists' 800-mile trip to Turin in memory of Philippa

THE sun shone on the group of 28 cyclists that left Axminster on Saturday morning, heading for Italy.

They had about 800 miles ahead of them on as they set off for the Salone del Gusto slow food festival in Turin - in memory of Philippa Corbin.

Philippa worked at River Cottage Canteen but tragically took her own life at the age of 27 in January 2011 when suffering from depression.

Formally named Slow Ride To Turin, the ride has been organised in her memory and to raise awareness and acceptance of depression and funds for two charities; The Humans Given Foundation and The Charlie Waller Memorial Trust. Team members and supporters gathered in River Cottage Canteen for a breakfast and pep talk by River Cottage boss Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall, who cycled along for part of the first leg.

Gavin Tyte is the vicar of Uplyme and one of the 28 cyclists. The vicar and one of his fellow team members, Lis Harden from Lyme Regis met up with Pulman's View to talk about their aims and preparations.

Lis had just been for a swim in the sea and has been preparing for about a year. She used to do downhill mountain biking and is a keen gig rower.

An injury has prevented her from rowing for a while, though, but she appears to be more than ready for the ride ahead. Apart from the physical challenge, she hopes the ride will help to rid depression of the stigma attached to it.

She said: "It's rife [depression]. There is an awful lot of publicity about obesity, for example, and it is almost accepted – but the acceptance of depression is not there. It is not a self-indulgent illness.

"If, by doing the ride, we prevent at least one family from going through what the Corbins did, we won't give a damn about sore bottoms and legs from the ride."

Vicar Tyte has been preparing for three months. He explained: "The physical bit has been quite a shock to the system and it has been a massive learning curve to get used to the bike as well."

Although they are yet to start, he feels the ride has already served its purpose to an extent. This is because so many people engage in conversation about depression when they hear about Slow Ride To Turin.

Gavin took Philippa's funeral and both he and Lis said about the ride: "It is a great way of honouring a lovely girl."

All you need to know about the ride, including how to sponsor and regular progree reports, are available online at www.slowridetoturin.co.uk.

■ TOWARDS 31: Gerald and Tina at work under the supervision of loyal customers Lesley Cliffe and Graham Godbeer.

Thirty not out for fishmonger

A FISHMONGER has paid tribute to staff and customers after 30 years of trading in and around Axminster.

Gerald Mills was a fishmonher in Broadstairs, Kent, but moved to Axminster in October 1982 and bought market trading business Macsorsons.

The family had friends in the area and had always enjoyed visits to the West Country.

Gerald and wife Rosemary traded at markets and expanded their business in 1994 when they bought a fishmongers in Axminster and renamed it Macsorsons.

Rosemary has retired but their daughter, Tina Herbert, plays a leading role in the business. Gerald is past retirement age and is part-time - but has no plans to pack it in, and said: "Not unless they give me the sack."

He clearly enjoys the customer service side to the business and, along with Tina, said: "We have been very lucky to have had loyal customers and staff."

Eileen picks up BEM

A FOUNDING member of the Honiton Support Group for Hospiscare has been awarded a British Empire Medal for her work within the community.

Eileen Rooke, 81, who lives in Offwell, first found out the news of her award in early May, and was pleased to finally accept the award.

The grandmother of 12 has dedicated her life to voluntary work supporting the Honiton Hospiscare Fundraising Support Group as Chair and principal fundraiser.

Mrs Rooke was awarded the British Empire Medal last week, along with 8 other men and women from across the county who were named on the Queen's Birthday Honours List in June.

The medal was presented to her by Devon's Lord Lieutenant, Eric Dancer CBE JP, the Queen's representative in the county, at a special ceremonial event at the County Hall.

Hospiscare is the community provision of palliative care supported by the hospice in Exeter and the provision of palliative care nurses in each town is reliant on the local fundraising teams.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: Eileen Rooke is pictured collecting her British Empire Medal from Devon's Lord Lieutenant Eric Dancer CBE JP

Mrs Rooke has provided the drive and determination to make this a successful service, drawing on her own organisational skills and network of local people to start up the Honiton Friends of Hospiscare group and finding innovative ways of raising money through lunch clubs, breakfast clubs and involving local businesses.

Organising between 40 and 50 fundraising events each year and looking after the Honiton carer's group-the bereavement team, Mrs Rooke has spent much time going out of her way to publicise Hospiscare, speaking to groups and organisations throughout the district and working alongside other volunteers.

Named as the driving force for Honiton's Hospiscare group, Mrs Rooke has been given endless support to nurses and other members of the group.

On presenting the awards, Mr Dancer said: "These people are true community champions, and I was delighted to present them with their British Empire Medals.

"They have all carried out so much work to help others, and fully deserve the recognition the medal brings.

"I hope the dedication and hard work they have provided to their communities will be an inspiration to all."

Festive flavours for local cider maker

A HONITON man has bucked the trend of local businesses and is off to a flying success after launching his own new range of cider.

After working in the industry for many years Chris Norcott decided to invest his hard earned skill and knowledge in producing his own range and in April the Norcott's Cider range was born.

Chris's strategy has been to design a cider range that has all year round appeal to help build cider consumption outside of the traditional summer period, with an emphasis on the local market.

The innovative cranberry cider is an exclusive flavour to the UK.

He explained: "As you would expect the Norcott Cider's range incorporates a traditional apple and pear cider. But additionally, I have developed three flavours, which have a more seasonal focus- elderflower, raspberry and orange and cranberry.

"I would like to support local businesses and set up tastings and events to increase local distribution in the right places."

The cider is available from local establishments in Honiton, such as The Holt, Bar 102, Budgen's and Honiton Rugby Club, as well as Millers Farm Shop and the Old Inn in Kilmington – among others. Further information can be found at www.norcottscider.co.uk.

Butchers in final for Shop of the Year award

COMPLETE Meats' Honiton shop has made it into the finals of the Butchers Shop of the Year Awards (South of England category).

The awards are run by Meat Trades Journal and the Honiton shop is one of three on the shortlist.

Competition judges make a visit to competing shops and consider things like where the meat is sourced from, how well it is displayed, what other products the shop has to offer and how well the shop communicates with its customers.

A Complete Meats spokesperson said: " I'm delighted to get this far in the competition again.

"In 2005 we won the regional heat but the competition is really tough this year.

"At the end of the day it's a team effort and I hope we impressed the judge that came to visit us."

The shop and its staff will have to wait until November to hear the final results.

Prizes for students' achievements

ACADEMIC, sporting and pastoral achievements from the past year were celebrated during Honiton Community College's recent series of annual celebration of achievement evenings.

As well as recognising individuals, the events were also an opportunity to celebrate the continuing success of the college, including record breaking Year 11 and 12 exam results.

There was an Olympic touch to the Key Stage 4 and 5 evening, which featured London 2012 medal winner Mary King. The famous equestrian presented awards to the pupils and gave "an inspirational talk".

Those attending also enjoyed performances from Bethany Sillitoe and Year 11 band Inkorrect.

Awards were given to the most improved and highest performing student in each subject during the presentations. Special cup winners were Megan Hawkins (Governors' Award Year 10), Samuel Johnson (Governor's Award Year 11), Lewis Gillingham (Lower Sixth Award), Jessica Doe (Sixth Form Award) and Thomas Shepherd (Upper Sixth Award) Honiton mayor David Foster Key Stage 3 Winners, who included Ben Williams, (Governors' English and Technology Cup. Other cup winners were Zhengchao Lu, Sam Riley, Cerys Little, Jessica Jacobs, Sirin Bozkurt, Ella George, Owen McCreadie-Taylor and Lauren Hunt.

News briefs

HONITON newsagent Duncan Finlayson and his shop are on a shortlist of three in The National Federation of Retail Newsagents Awards (Independent Newspaper Retailer of the Year category).

Duncan runs The Paper Shop in New Street, and will attend the awards ceremony at the Park Plaza Riverbank Hotel in London on Tuesday, October 23rd .

A spokesperson for the federation said: "Mr Finlayson has been shortlisted for the award in recognition of his commitment to developing newspaper sales.

"He works tirelessly to increase his home news delivery business, not just in the town but also in outlying villages, providing a comprehensive and invaluable service to local communities.

"Within the shop he also offers an excellent range of magazines and periodicals which are well displayed."

A FIRE crew from Honiton was despatched to deal with a chimney fire at a property in Old Chard Road, Cotleigh.

The call came in just after 5pm on Friday, October 12th and a spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The fire was extinguished by fire crews using chimney gear."

New book tells how Bob lit up Blackpool

By Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedia.co.uk

A SEATON man has been named 'one of the most iconic designers of his time' in a new book celebrating 100 years of the Blackpool illuminations.

The new book Blackpool Illuminations - The Greatest Free Show on Earth features up to ten pages of illustrations created by well-known Seaton artist Bob Bradshaw, who was once a designer of the lights.

As a designer from 1960-1963, he created some of the most influential work of his time, producing sketches based on a huge range of subjects to light up the six-mile stretch of promenade.

Eighty-year-old Mr Bradshaw had the surprise of his life when the Head of Cultural Engagement and director of the National Fairground Archive, Professor Vanessa Toulmin, contacted him and asked if she could include him in the celebratory book.

After working with Professor Toulmin for several months, Mr Bradshaw received an invitation from the Mayor of Blackpool to attend the official book launch and celebratory reception.

Mr Bradshaw drove the 300 miles to Blackpool with his wife Audrey to attend the presentation and was greeted by a handful of old friends all of whom used to work alongside him to produce the mammoth illuminations.

The Seaton artist explained: "When I arrived in Blackpool, it was very clear that things were different and lots had changed, especially when I took a tour with the current head of illuminations and a ride along the promenade in the illuminated tram.

"It was fantastic that out of the blue I was contacted about my role working on the illuminations as a designer. and it has been a pleasure to remember those times and reminisce with old friends who I worked alongside many years ago.

"I guess the budget cuts and the change to LED lighting has affected how it appears now as it is very different, especially now the Rigby Road Works are long gone.

"It used to be all hand drawn sketches, blown up to gigantic proportion, but now it is all computerised.

"There used to be hundreds of men working to put up the lights and just me designing, changing at least a quarter of the lights every year, but now there are a few designers and the budget can only stretch to change about five per cent of the lights."

Mr Bradshaw's work on the illuminations began after he applied for the designer's job and brought a vivid hand drawn sketch to the table - one that stuck in the memories of the old management and got him his spot on the famous lights.

His famous features from the 1960s included themes on Toytown, Birds & Bees, Romantica and Pantoland.

Mr Bradshaw also worked with Disney, basing his work on transparent stills and photos sent in and interpreting designs for themes such as Disneyrama, The Sword in the Stone and The Castaways.

He was even given the opportunity to have the Odeon Cinema all to himself for a private preview of 101 Dalmatians prior to its nationwide release to inspire his designs.

Mr Bradshaw added: "It is a great and lovely feeling to hear my name being spoken about and for the book to state that I 'produced some of the most iconic designs ever to appear on the promenade'.

"I feel very proud of my time working on the Blackpool illuminations, and I am even prouder to feature in a book celebrating 100 years of the lights."

Jumble sale raises more than £1,200

THE Seaton and Axmouth branch of Cancer Research UK held a jumble sale last month which raised more than £1,200.

The sale was held in Seaton Town Hall on September 29th.

Paula Vickers of Cancer Research UK said: "It went extremely well. We raised an amazing £1,248.55, which is one of the best amounts ever for a jumble sale.

"As always we are so very grateful to all of those who attended and to all of our amazing volunteers and helpers without whom none of it would be possible."

Lions' tabletop sale makes £330

MEMBERS of Seaton and District Lions held a successful tabletop sale raising £330 for their charity services.

There were a number of stalls from local organisations and groups as well refreshments and a tombola at the town hall, and a large number of people came out to support the group.

Members of the Lions would like to thank all those who supported them and would like to remind people that their next tabletop sale and 'Lions Cabaret Night' evening will be held on December 15th.

Kelvin picks up bronze for Seaton

MEMBERS of Seaton Judo Club took part in a Devon Open Competition and scooped a bronze medal.

The popular annual event held in Kingsbridge welcomed four competitors from the Seaton club to compete against around 120 senior martial artists and was the first competition for the group for many years.

Despite not all of the group winning – and a snapped wrist for one unfortunate Seaton fighter – under 81 kilo competitor, Kelvin Gurmin, picked up a bronze medal and was pleased to return home with a winning feeling.

Following the win, the group are upping the intensity of their senior training and are hoping to attend more competitions on a regular basis in the future, including an open competition in Plymouth this November.

The Seaton Judo Club welcome new members of all ages and abilities to their group with a junior and senior section and are particularly seeking more women to join, with none currently in the senior section.

Wet weekend for Scouts

By Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedia.co.uk

MORE than 500 young people from Devon survived a complete wash out as heavy rain hit the annual scouting camp at Woodlands Theme Park, Dartmouth.

Held last weekend, the 1st Beer Scouts were just one of many groups from all over the county who had the chance to explore the facilities and fun at Woodlands whilst making new friends.

The group even endured some of the heaviest downpours they had seen and, after a night of activities, they battled with heavy rain and winds as their tents were blown down and filled with water.

But this didn't stop the fun and the group pulled together and put their scouting knowledge to the test.

Thanks to the leaders and some fantastic young people, the scouts all took inspiration and put all their training to good use to set about making the best of the situation, with some scouts still taking to the rides whilst leaders and supporters helped put away the tents and rectify the damage as well as still managing to put on a warming feast for the returning adventurers.

The group also invested one of their new scouts Kadi Pidgeon on the Trauma Tower.

Eleven-year-old Kadi said: "I had an amazing time with all my friends and it's certainly something I will remember."

Nigel Groves, Scout Leader from 1st Beer Scouts, said: "Despite the weather it was a fantastic weekend. It was great to see just how many young people were involved in scouting all in one place.

"It was amazing to see how everyone pulled together when required and diverted what could have been a lot more dramatic incident into a positive experience that I know will last in the memory of many young people for years to come."

Sherpas win battle of the bands contest

A TALENTED group of musical youngsters have been celebrating after they took first place at a recent 'battle of the bands' competition.

Alternative rock band The Sherpas competed a few weeks ago at The Cavern in Exeter and were one of eight to compete in the final round.

The five-piece band consisting of Jake Daniel, 18, James Fuke, 17, Ben Milverton, 18, Chris Tilke, 16, and Pierre Roxon, 19, have been going from strength to strength and the group were extremely pleased to win the battle and come out on top.

After already winning battles and talent competitions in the past, the lads are no strangers to performing and have recently been gigging across the local area.

The band also attended and performed on the seafront stage at Seaton's Devon Air Ambulance Week to help raise funds; a perfect local place for some of the group with James coming from Beer and Jake from Seaton.

Sidmouth College student and Seaton boy, Jake Daniel, said: "We were entered into the final quite late so we had little time to prepare and gather supporters, so we were really surprised when we won the battle of the bands.

"It was fairly daunting as the other bands were much heavier and had more of a punk metal vibe in comparison to our own music, but we are pleased we were chosen as the winners.

"We have a lot of support from friends at college and family and this has helped us to grab opportunities and throw ourselves into gigs."

Band influences come from a range of musical genres including artists such as Red Hot Chilli Peppers, The Maccabees and The Strokes, and the group are focused on producing their own original material.

Upcoming performances for the rocking youngsters include a performance at the Dublin Castle in Camden Town, London later this month and a rock festival in Slovenia next year.

Rhythm guitarist and backing vocalist, Jake, added: "It has been a really positive experience for all of us as we have been able to generate a bigger fan base in the Exeter and East Devon area.

"It has definitely helped us to build up our status and get gigs further afield, as well as making us feel more prepared for bigger audiences."

The next step for the group will be to embrace their prize – the chance to record their new single at a professional studio and take part in a band photo shoot.

Carnival AGM set for next month

SEATON Carnival Committee will be holding their Annual General Meeting and Presentation Night on November 9th, upstairs at The Gateway in Seaton Town Hall.

The top three collectors at this year's carnival procession were: 1st, RNLI member, £64.73; 2nd, Ian Manchester, £60.73 and 3rd, RNLI member, £60.59.

In total £1960.79 was collected at the procession. Seaton Carnival Committee would like to thank everyone that collected on the night.

Doors at the AGM will open at 5:30pm for a prompt 6pm start . All are welcome to attend.

There will be a barn dance with the band Long Odds and Short Straws following the AGM at 7.30pm. Tickets are £6 per person, which can be purchased from Seaton Town Hall box office. There will also be a raffle, a licensed bar and food available for purchase.

The barn dance will help raise much-needed funds for the carnival's running costs.

Seaton Carnival Committee has also arranged a coach trip to Clarks Village (the outlet shopping complex in Street) and the Glastonbury Carnival procession on Saturday, November 17th. The coach will leave at midday and will pick up from Seaton, Axminster and Chard.

All profits from the coach trip will go toward the 2013 Seaton Carnival Queen's Float. Contact Roger Broom on 01297 24982 for more information.

Seaton's Citizens Advice set to stay after council grant

THE Citizens' Advice Bureau (CAB) will continue to have a presence in Seaton after East Devon CAB received a grant of almost £4,500 from Seaton Town Council.

Co-chairman of East Devon CAB Jane Dauncey said: "We are absolutely delighted to receive this money as there is much need for a local CAB in Seaton and I am sure that it will be very well used."

The service is based in the Community Resource Centre at 23 Fore Street and can also be contacted on 01297 24380. The opening hours are Wednesday and Friday from 9:30am-12:30pm.

CABs can help anyone and the service is free, confidential and open to anyone. All CABs are registered charities and dependent on grants and donations. The main offices of East Devon CAB are in Honiton and Exmouth, with other smaller bases in Sidmouth and Axminster.

Details and more information about the service, volunteering or donating can be found on www.citizensadvice.org.uk or by phoning 01404 44213.

Colyton Link chairman, Wendy Cann said: "The event was quite successfull. People seemed to enjoy themselves and the music was very nice. Thank you to everyone who came along, the committee and helpers." Although not a fundraising event, a collection was held and made bout £65.

Church lights up for Son et Lumiere

Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

THE history of St Andrew's Church in Colyton came to life last week.

A unique Son et Lumiere was staged for packed audiences over three nights.

Unlike a usual play, the Son et Lumere did not have speaking characters. Instead, the story of the church and town's history since the 12th century was told by the voice of a narrator and cleverley depicted through music, special effects and lighting that focussed on one part of the church at a time.

It is thought this was the first show of its kind in the East Devon area for about 60 years, with the last being held at Exeter Cathedral in the 1960s.

The Son et Lumiere started with the story of the first priest of St Andrew's, Robert de la Hylle, who lived in what is now the bell-ringing chamber in the 12th century, where he could view the goings-on in church through a hatch.

In the Middle Ages, succession of priests were installed, including Thomas Brerewood, who built a stone screen in the church named after him.

A model of a schoolmaster in the Parvise above the church porch, with the sound of nursey rhymes and latin practice, was used to depict the origins of Colyton Grammar School, which began in the church in 1546.

The audience moved forward to hear the story of the Pole Chapel and of the family after which it was named. The chapel includes a tomb where Sir John Pole, Sheriff of Devon, MP and First Baronet, lies back-to-back with his wife. Many children of the family died in infancy and are also commemorated in the chapel.

In 1645 Colyton's population was decimated by the bubonic plague. The panic of the Black Death was depicted by a poem by Bessie Rayner Parkes and the singing of "Ring-a-Roses" by children of the church's King's Club.

During the interval, the audience enjoyed drinks and nibbles and were able to have a closer look around the church at sections they had already learnt the history of.

The second act began with the death of King Charles II in 1685 and the subsequent dispute over who should take over his reign - James II the Catholic or Charle's illegitimate son, James Duke of Monmouth, the Protestant.

Colyton chose the side of the Duke of Monmouth and became known as the most rebellious town in Devon for its role in the Monmouth Rebellion. Despite their efforts, the rebellion failed and many Colyton men were transported or excuted.

A poem by Malcolm Povey was read describing a mother's fear as her son leaves to fight, while impressive lighting and sound affects recalled the town under attack.

The calmer scenes of author Jane Austen's visit to Colyton in 1804 was depicted with a scene from "Pride and Prejudice". It is thought she based the book's character Jane Bennett on the wife of then vicar, the Reverend Richard Buller, who was a family friend. "Sonata", which is thought to have been written by piano enthusiast Austen, was also played.

The devastating church fire of 1933 was vividly described by a piece written by a resident of Colyton who overlooked the church at the time. The fire was started by faulty electrics, during a period of church renovations shortly after a successful harvest service.

Renovations have continued since the fire until, most recently, the West Window was completed in 2010. Other modern additions highlighted included the organ, installed in 1973, with organist Nicholas Brown playing "Tocatta".

The Son et Lumiere finished with the dawning of the new millenium, with focus on the cross of the central arch and Christ's figure from Oberammargau, and an epilogue from the Reverend Hilary Dawson.

The show was devised by Christine Sansom, Jilly Spencer and Nicholas Brown, with the readers and singers including: Ernest Fox (narrator), Nicholas Arrow, Christine Sansom, Kate Barker, Clare Mulley, Emily Green, David Green, Matilda Board, Nicholas Brown, the Reverend Nigel Freathy, Leslie Baker, Angela Sansom, Jilly Spencer, Emily Mulley, Naomi Green, Oliver Board, Christopher Pole-Carew, the Reverend Hilary Dawson and children from the King's Club.

Seaton support for air ambulance

EDITOR AT LARGE

Philip Evans

ONE of the joys of this job is to see at first hand just how hard so many people work to improve the lot of others.

Elsewhere in this column I write about the good deeds of the Rotary movement, especially their support for Shelterbox, the international relief charity that delivers emergency shelter, warmth and dignity to people affected by disaster worldwide.

Another charity which receives wonderful support from this area and which would come near the top of most people's favourite causes is the Devon Air Ambulance.

The service which has saved a countless number of lives since its formation in 1992 came about after an 18 year-old cyclist died in a crash.

When his mother asked doctors at the hospital whether there was anything that might have been done to save her son, she was told that the quicker a patient receives emergency medical treatment, the better the chance there is of survival.

Six years later the first Devon Air Ambulance went into operation. Now there are two helicopters flying seven days a week at a cost of £4.5 million a year.

That money comes entirely from voluntary contributions and fundraising events with hundreds of people around the county working tirelessly to keep the helicopters operational.

People like Colin Pearce (pictured) who has been collecting for Devon Air Ambulance for around 15 years. A couple of years ago Colin got a few friends together to form the Seaton Devon Air Ambulance Support Group to organise a week of events to boost local financial support.

The week was a great success, raising several thousands of pounds and has now become an annual event.

On Saturday, Colin and his loyal supporters got together at the Eyre Court Hotel to celebrate raising £5,000 at last August's event and to thank all those who had worked so hard.

Colin and his team are already planning next summer's week-long programme which they hope will be just as successful in the knowledge that every pound raised goes towards saving a life.

I'M SPENDING most Saturday afternoons at Sector Lane covering the Tigers for our sports section which is never a chore. The Carpetmen play in Division One of the South West Peninsular League, the highest standard in this part of the world, and on Saturday found themselves in the giddy heights of second place.

Although resigned to moving to their new ground in Chard Road at some time in the future, there's a real buzz around Sector Lane this season. Good sized crowds and plenty of banter.

Things are also going well down at Cloakham Lawn where Millwey Rise are playing for the first time in the Perry Street Premier League and more than holding their own, despite losing to my home town team Lyme Regis 5-1 on Saturday (had to get that one in)!

Both sides run a Reserves team and have burgeoning youth set-ups and with Beer and Seaton both in the Devon & Exeter Premier League, it makes me wonder whether football has ever been stronger in the Axe Valley. Long may it continue.

Rotarians, always there, always helping

I'VE always been a huge admirer of the Rotary movement. I shudder to think how many Rotary-organised events I have covered over the years and could not start to make an estimation of how much money they have raised in our community during that time.

The Rotary movement is truly worldwide with more than 1.2 million members in 34,000 clubs in 200 countries. In Great Britain and Ireland there are 1,850 clubs comprising 53,000 members, men and women of all ages and backgrounds.

East Devon has grown accustomed over the years to the good deeds of our local Rotary Clubs, supporting worthy causes, honouring community leaders, encouraging others to help themselves and collecting to ease pain and suffering all over the world. Their support for the brilliant Shelterbox charity has been awe inspiring.

Rarely a week passes without Rotarians being seen out in the streets or organising an event such as the Swimathon at Sidmouth on Saturday evening which has raised huge sums over the last five years.

The swimathon attracted 24 sponsored teams who had to swim 55 laps of the pool, raising money to help Sidmouth Scouts in their move to new headquarters on Salcombe Hill.

I popped over to Sidmouth to cover the event for our Sidmouth edition and it was clear that the Rotarians had the organisation down to a tee, always a hallmark of Rotary events.

Villages rewarded for doing East Devon proud

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

SIX villages have been congratulated by East Devon District Council for doing the area proud in the CPRE Best Kept Village Competition (Devon).

The competition is run by The Campaign for the Protection of Rural England, and EDDC pays tribute to high-achieving entrants from the district.

Representatives of Hawkchurch, Musbury, Upottery, Talaton, Dalwood and Offwell were invited to a presentation ceremony on October 10th along with CPRE competition co-ordinator Diana Moyse.

EDDC chairman Peter Halse congratulated all of the villages that had taken part in the 2012 competition. He then invited Diana Moyse to address the meeting, who said that villages are at the heart of the rural environment.

She thanked EDDC for its support over the years and for acknowledging the villages within the district which had scored high points but were not necessarily Devon-wide winners.

■ MEDAL SHARE: Dalwood was joint second best of the East Devon entries in the Small Village category. Kathy Laing and Wilf Slee collected the certificate, flanked by EDDC vice-chairman Frances Newth and EDDC chairman Peter Halse

■ SO CLOSE: Upottery was the East Devon runner-up in the Large Village category with Kerry Kennell, John Cornish and David Key picking up the award. Below, EDDC leader Graham Godbeer accepted the certificate for being joint second among in the Small Village category on Offwell's behalf, with EDDC vice-chairman Frances Newth and chairman Peter Halse.

■ TOP OF THE TABLE: Talaton won the Devon-wide Past Winners' category

Over £900 donated from Hawkchurch Fete

HAWKCHURCH Fete Committee donated over £900 to national and local causes last week.

Despite a loss on the fete itself, which had to be moved to the Village Hall due to appalling weather in August, regular fundraisers throughout the year and other events during the fete week meant the committee could donate £911 at the village's harvest supper last Sunday.

Daniel Bright handed out £171 to the Village Hall, £100 to the football club and £320 each to Devon Air Ambulance and Macmillan Cancer Support.

These donations follow £246 for Diamond Jubilee children's mugs and £90.50 to Hawkchurch Tennis Club donated earlier in the year.

Money raised at the village's recent Harvest Auction in The Old Inn was also donated to the Church Tower Fund.

Flowers and gifts were handed to Peter and Marguerite Searle. long-standing members of Hawkchurch Fete Committee, who recently announced their resignation.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

AS PREVIOUSLY reported, the bi-yearly National Conference for Anglican Deaneries has just been held in Derbyshire with an attendance of over 100.

The theme was 'The Shape of things to come' and shared ways in which resources of people and pounds can be found to assist the task of parishes in furthering God's work, especially when finances are critical. A full report will follow in due course.

As a step about buying and saving for church work, news was given of a Church of England scheme offering advice on church costs of heat and light, stationery and office equipment. Email contact procurement@churchofengland.org for more details

The Exeter Companion Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf have places on a pilgrimage to Georgia in the Caucasus from April 26th to May 5th 2013, led by their Bishop Michael Lewis. Flying is from and to Heathrow - email bishop@spidernet.com.cy for more details.

The National Churches Trust, which funds church repairs, says the number of applications it has received for grants doubled last year. The trust has warned that historic churches are crumbling as the effects of metal theft and the recession take their toll. All possible precautions should be taken.

The diocese said farewell to the Bishop of Crediton, Bob Evens, and his wife Sue, having been with us for the past eight years, at a well supported cathedral service in Exeter. His successor as Bishop of Crediton was announced last week.

More news from Exeter, where the diocese has a new Youth Work Adviser called Paul Reisbach from September 2012. He will join with Katherine Lyddon who will be working part time. Those with youth issues or who simply wish to welcome him, can make contact at paul.reisbach@exeter.anglican.org

The Offwell group of parishes in East Devon are looking forward to the arrival of their new incumbent from Maidstone, the Revd Peter Walker and his wife Diana, who will be licensed at Cotleigh Church on the evening of October 24th.

Pastor Darell Holmes writes from Kilmington Baptist Church to say they have now submitted their planning application for a replacement chapel on a new site within the village.

After months of negotiation, consultation and perspiration, they feel they have a building design and site layout which will serve the congregation and area for generations to come and that has the almost unanimous backing of the community.

Pastor Darrell concludes: "Since the fire destroyed our chapel in March 2009, we have travelled a steep learning curve but hope that finally the prospect of the third chapel in the life of the congregation is now in reach."

We send them good wishes for this venture.

60 seconds

BORN a Geordie lad, Mayor of Colyford John Mills attended university in Hull, where he met his wife Vicky. They moved to Exeter in 1970 when Vicky started teacher training and John joined Devon County Council as a trainee accountant. The couple moved to their dream house in Colyford in 1987 with their three children. John said village activities have occupied much of his time since his first week in Colyford – he joined the Colyford Burgesses straight away and is now in his third year as mayor, which comes to an end this November. He was also recruited to the Colyford Goose Fayre Committee and has been involved ever since.

● WERE you pleased with the success of this year's Goose Fayre?

The fayre was again incredibly successful this year and attracted around 3,000 people. It is a great joy to me and everyone in the village that so many people have a lovely time. The fayre is also a very significant unifying force within the village, providing a wonderful opportunity for villagers to get to know each other, support each other and to work together for the common good. It is great to see and hear the banter between volunteers as they prepare for the fayre. It is also good to see the funds raised by the fayre to support activities in the village and local communities.

● WHAT do you enjoy about the event?

I have had my trials and tribulations with the Goose Fayre over a long period of time, being secretary from 1991 to 2001. Great joy when the stallholders and performers had turned up, great heartache wondering at 1:50pm if the police would turn up to stop the traffic to enable the procession to start. My current role is much less onerous - as Mayor, I have great pleasure in leading the procession through the village with Vicky and in opening the fayre rather than doing all the hard work!

● HOW long have you served in Colyford Burgesses?

I have been a Burgess since moving to Colyford (all those living in the Colyford postal district can become a Burgess) and I'm now coming to the end of my third year as mayor. I am very proud to have persuaded the other Burgesses earlier this year that women, as well as men, should be entitled to be Burgesses. While it has been immensely rewarding to have been mayor, I am a firm believer that the position should be time limited and I do not propose to stand for re-election on November 2nd. Vicky and I will, however, give as much support as we can to the new mayor and his/her partner.

● THE Burgesses have been working with Devon County Council on the Stop Line Way cycle route through Colyford. What are you hoping to achieve from this?

For some time now the Burgesses have had serious concerns about the safety of the proposed Stop Line Way cycle route through Colyford. We were very pleased, therefore, when the county council gave us a six-month period in which to come up with an acceptable off-road solution and we are now working closely with local organisations, landowners and statutory authorities to see if this is possible. Our dream is to have a complete off road cycle way from Seaton right up to Colyford tram station and possibly beyond.

● ARE you involved with any other local organisations?

I have been involved with many other local organisations in and around Colyford – I audit the accounts of Colyford Memorial Hall and Colyford Garden Society, and was treasurer to Colyton Scout group for many years. I'm also secretary of the Devon Historic Churches Trust and treasurer to the South West Coast Path Association. I also advise other charities on finance and investment matters. Contrary to popular belief, accountancy need not be boring!

● WHAT are your personal interests?

My personal interests are centred around the family and Vicky, and we spend as much time as we can with our children and grandson and eagerly await the birth of another grandchild in November. We also enjoy walking and gardening, and try very hard to play a half decent round of golf occasionally.

● WHAT do you like about living in Colyford?

Colyford has given our family a lot of pleasure and joy over the years. It is also a very caring village, with people looking out for each other. It is great to be involved in such a vibrant community, with so much going on every day of the week. The physical location of the place is also stunning and from our garden we can see the sea, the meandering River Axe and the hills all around. It is very important, however, for new people to come forward to volunteer to take on responsibilities, otherwise much of what is good about village activities will disappear. The things we enjoy cannot always be left to "somebody else" to organise.

● WHAT would you change about or add to the village?

One thing I would like to add to the village is a proper footway with a safe crossing near to St Michael's and the village shops. The volume and speed of traffic is always a hazard for children and people with mobility problems.

■ John is pictured with wife Vicky at his recent graduation from the prestigious Sir John Cass Business School at City University, London, where he gained a Master of Science degree with Distinction in Charity Finance and Accounting

country scene

Written by countryside correspondent TONY JACKSON

Beware of deer – it's rutting season

A WEEK or so ago, I heard the eerie whistling call of a rutting sika stag. It was a calm, clear evening and as the light faded and the colour was slowly leached from the meadow grass, I watched as a pricket with single spike antlers and four brown-coated hinds emerged from the cover of a deep, dark conifer forest with typical sika caution to graze spasmodically.

These are the Japanese sika first brought to this country in 1860, when a pair was given to the London Zoological Gardens, and others were sent to Powerscourt in Co Wicklow.

Here, within 24 years, the Irish herd had increased to over 100 and a number of sikar were given away or sold, some coming to England to form small colonies in parks and from which many quickly escaped.

Another type of sika, the Manchurian, was also imported to Britain sometime before the Great War. This deer is considerably larger than the Japanese sika, standing higher at the shoulder and with wider spreading, thicker antlers; representatives, displaying Manchurina blood, are still found in Lancashire.

In our region, the deep, dark and damp conifer woods of West Dorset provide ideal habitat for the Japanese sika which were first introduced to the area in 1896 when a number of the deer, brought to Brownsea Island, Poole quickly swam to the mainland to found the Purbeck side colony.

Soon after the end of World War I another contingent escaped from a park at Hyde, north of Wareham, to establish the sika herds which now colonise the Wareham side.

Not so far away, in the New Forest is yet another colony, which is believed to have escaped from the Beaulieu estate. These deer carry antlers which are very different to those of the Dorset sika.

At this time of the year, a stranger to the countryside and perhaps strolling through woodland, may be deeply alarmed to hear the strange piercing call of a rutting stag echoing through the forest.

Loud, rising in pitch, repeated again and again to end in a grunt, to the unknowing it can be extremely alarming. These stags, during the time of the rut, can also be very aggressive and have been known to attack humans.

They are also swift and savage fighters amongst themselves, often breaking their antlers when fighting for domination of hinds.

A rutting stag at this time of the year is not a pretty sight! Coarse of hair, thick-necked and plastered with mud from wallowing in pools and splashes, his belly is stained and rank with urine. The venison is also to be avoided at this time of the year!

Whilst watching the sika, I was surrounded by scores of house martins, hawking back and forth for insects life as they stocked up for their migration to tropical Africa.

Shortly before they depart, huge flocks of martin, and swallows, gather in swarms to wheel and dart in their hundreds. Now they have all departed and we shall not see them again before next April.

Meanwhile, ornithologist Ian Waite from Seaton tells me that amongst birds recently seen on the Seaton wetlands and migrating south have been several Little Stints, three Curlew Sandpipers, Wood Sandpipers and an American visitor, a Pectoral Sandpiper.

Black-tailed Godwits included two birds ringed by the Axe Estuary Ringing Group and returning from their breeding grounds in Iceland. An elusive Spotted crake has also been seen.

Several Ospreys have passed through, while a Marsh Harrier also sent a day on the wetlands. Now the first of the wigeon have begun to arrive from Russia as the last of the Wheatears departs south.

The year's cycle is in full swing, trees are changing colour to autumn russets and reds and all too soon winter will be upon us.

On the contrary, EDDC has stood up for town!

■ I HAVE read with lots of interest the coverage of the proposed 90 flats at the Seaton Quay / former Racal site on the edge of the Axe Estuary.

I am dismayed that all the readers letters have focused on how EDDC has short-changed Seaton yet again.

On the contrary; EDDC has stood up for Seaton, the youth of Seaton and average income households in the area.

I would like to clarify a few points; originally the developers were required to provide 36 affordable units (40 per cent), £375k for employment land provision and £162,508 contribution for recreation within the town.

The developer wanted to revise these stipulations and replace them with a single contribution to the town of £500k and NO affordable housing at all.

Therefore Seaton would miss out on 36 affordable units for the youth of the town and £37,508 towards employment land provision and recreation.

The 'local', but not Axe valley-based developers, claim in the current economic climate the obligations placed on the development make it unviable – perhaps they are just wanting to increase their profits to the detriment of Seaton's future?

Ninety flats would yield a lot of profit for somebody and it wouldn't be the people of Seaton!

If the development is unviable then perhaps it should be revised to provide amenities for the town – give a reason for people to come to the town not just unaffordable flats.

Some of your readers may not be aware of the plight of young people on average incomes and how difficult it is to get on the housing ladder.

Colyton and Beer have had affordable housing developments in recent years – this is Seaton's opportunity and I fully support EDDC for standing up for the town.

Well done. I, as a young person living in Seaton, hope EDDC maintains its stance and doesn't get railroaded by the wealthy developers.

Post Office closure is a blow to Colyton

■ THE closure of Wilkies and the Post Office is a blow to the people of Colyton and those who tried to save it.

Four year ago Trevor Colman MEP (UKIP) was warning in a pamphlet that 2,500 Post Offices would be closed, why? Well a decision was made by the then EU Competition Commissioner, Neelie Kroes a Dutch politician, that the Post Office network had to be reduced by 2,500 under a transformation programme which had to end.

Her brief included "ensuring a level playing field for business in Europe, and fair prices and wide choice for consumers", yes really.

The Post Office had no choice as politicians did not oppose this measure all being committed to the EU Project.

So Post Office Local was born which meant less money and services for former sub offices re-designated as local.

Musbury's Post Office will close soon and relocate in the garage shop but, of course, the same problem could occur here.

I hope that someone will take on the Post Office in Colyton but in these difficult economic times it will not be easy. For information visit www.ukipdevon.org.uk.

Hotel owner calls for review of rates

■ I READ with interest your article in the edition of Tuesday, September 25th entitled "Lack of accommodation hindering market town".

As an accommodation provider myself, it is interesting to read that the forum's findings show that there is a lack of accommodation in the Honiton area.

Having taken ownership of Home Farm Hotel in July last year, I have found that, aside from a handful of days in the summer, the hotel is rarely full.

We currently average 75 per cent during the summer months (when our trade is mostly holidaymakers and weekend breakers), and 30 to 40 per cent during the low season (when our guests are predominantly business people).

Furthermore, as we are a midrange option in terms of price, we should be well positioned to attract a wide range of clientele coming to the area.

Regarding the prohibiting effect of outdated business rates; your article has spurred me into discussions with the business rates valuation team regarding my current rates, and I would encourage other businesses to do the same.

A final point: being a newcomer to this area of Devon, my impression of Honiton is that of a thriving market town with plenty to offer both locals and visitors.

The question I would therefore like to ask, is whether more accommodation is required, or whether in fact we simply need a greater awareness of what accommodation is available, not just in Honiton, but also in the surrounding areas?

THIS year's Honiton Carnival entries will line up in Ottery Moor Business Park ready fora 7.30pm start. When the road closes at 7.00pm Majorette troupes will be parading up through the High Street to entertain the crowds while waiting for the carnival procession to start.

From 7.30pm Honiton will come alive with music and lights, floats travel the length of the High Street up to Monkton Road. We ask that you please show your appreciation for the floats and walking entries that take part as so much work has gone into them throughout the year.

Official collecting tins and floats will be going up and down the route to collect for local charities. If everyone watching the carnival donated just £1 then we would be able to cover our expenses and donate more to charities such as this year's - Help for Heroes and the Baton Appeal. Collection tins are also in most pubs along the High Street. For safety reasons, please do not throw coins at any of the other floats.

The Carnival Committee would like to thank the sponsors of the carnival who make the procession possible. Also the businesses and associations that help in other ways with no cost the Carnival, these include;

Turks Head Lodge – for use of the venue and help organising events.

Crudge Coaches – who provide transport for entries on carnival night.

Town Council - for grant and support

Honiton Business Park - for the use of the Business Park for the line up area

Amity Hair – for styling the hair of our Carnival Queen and Princess for the procession.

ASH Safety – for provision of radio equipment

Pantomime, Twirlstars and George Blake for children's entertainment.

Honiton Golf Club - for organising an annual carnival competition.

Landrover Experience of Awliscombe- For kindly lending us a` landrover every week.

All of the local business that have agreed to display posters to advertise our events and help in any other way to make the carnival a success.

We would like to ask for the support of people in the town by attending the events we are putting on which will help to ensure that the carnival continues.

Collection Tins

If everyone watching the carnival donated £1 we would be able to cover our expenses and donate more to charities such as this year's - Help for Heroes and the Baton Appeal. Collection Tins are also in most pubs along the High Street.

Axe Vale Orchestra concert to feature unusual pieces and old favourites

A PREMIERE, an unusual piece by a classical composer, and well-known favourites make up the next concert by The Axe Vale Orchestra.

Now starting its seventh year, the orchestra has again invited Anthony Halstead to run a workshop weekend on October 20th and 21st, which will end with a concert on Sunday, October 21st at 3pm in The Minster in Axminster.

Local composer Gordon Langford has written several works for this orchestra and other local musicians. Sketches for the 'Axminster Overture' were started some time ago, but were laid aside on account of other pressures and have been 're-discovered'.

The orchestra are sure the piece with its fanfare opening, its melodies, interesting harmony and contrasts will delight listeners.

An unusual piece will be Robert Schumann's 'Concert Piece for Four Horns and Orchestra' (Op. 86), first performed in 1850 by the horns of the Leipzig Gewandhaus Orchestra. Schumann exploits the possibilities of the (then) recently invented valve horn, and makes virtuosic demands on his players. The four soloists for this performance will be the Otter Valley Horn Quartet (Hilary Gunn, Trevor Ives, Jonathan Stoneman and Joanna White) who have been playing together for almost 5 years.

The energy and melody of Dvořák's Slavonic Dances (Op. 46 nos 4 & 7), evoking scenes of his native Bohemia and Moravia, made them immediately popular when they were first published in the 1870s, and they have remained in the orchestral repertoire (as well as in piano and band arrangements) ever since.

Another well-known piece will be Beethoven's Second Symphony in D major, a symphony which respects some classical traditions, but also broke new ground at the time and evoked both adulation and puzzlement at its first performance in 1802.

Tickets for the concert are available from the Archway Bookshop in Axminster (01297 33585) or on the door at £9 (£5 for students).

Local band release free download

DEVON-BASED acoustic duo Simon & Rhys released a free song download last Friday.

The song 'Refuge' is taken from their forthcoming EP entitled XIV, due for release in late October. 'Refuge' showcases a lighter and more upbeat side to the band than their debut album, Angles, which was released in January.

Refuge was release on Friday, October 12th and is available for free from the band's website, www.simonandrhys.com

Blind pianist Bernard d'Ascoli to give recital in Axminster

BLIND since the age of four, Bernard d'Ascoli won First Prize in the Barcelona International Piano Competition at the age of nineteen. His success in the Leeds Piano Competition, in 1981, has led to Bernard being in great demand, playing in many prestigious world-wide venues.

His particular affinity with the music of Chopin, shared with Joanna Leach, led to their collaboration in recording the complete Scherzi and Impromptus and a double album of all the Nocturnes, produced and edited by Joanna for her Athene-Minerva label. The CDs were enthusiastically received by many critics.

"Soak in Bernard d'Ascoli's delight in flinging his deft fingers into dramatic bouts of virtuosity, yet never losing the overall shape and purpose of the musical architecture." Denby Richards, Musical Opinion.

"Bernard's playing awakened us to all the infinite potential of the piano, beyond human limitations. The instrument lived under his hands as he invited us into his magic world." Yaltah Menuhin.

We can experience Bernard's artistry for ourselves! He is giving the final recital this year in the Joanna Leach Memorial Recitals series in The Minster, Axminster on Saturday 3rd November at 7:30pm, in support of Hospiscare.

Tickets are now on sale (£10) at the Archway Bookshop and Honiton TIC.

ACOUSTIC TOUR COMES TO HONITON

The 'Crafted Acoustic' Tour featuring a bill of Britain's brightest acoustic musicians is staging one of its shows on Friday 19th October at 'Boston Tea Party' in Honiton'. The nationwide Tour, now in its second year and described as "A Must See" by 'Acoustic Magazine' is a series of concerts from acoustic instrumentalist Chris Woods and singer-songsmith Cole Stacey, each delivering their own individual and inspiring sets.

Chris Woods offering "Creatively Stunning Compositions" ('Sounding Board Magazine') is one of the UK's most exciting instrumentalists. The last 12 months have seen Chris earning a publishing deal with Hal Leonard, his own column in 'Acoustic Magazine' & wowing audiences across the globe with high profile performances in the likes of USA and Germany.

Cole Stacey from Awliscombe has racked up gigs with the likes of Midge Ure, Cara Dillon and Hayseed Dixie and has been described by Steve Knightley (Show Of Hands) as "An Impassioned & Ambitious Songwriter" . For this concert he is joined by musical partner and virtuoso multi-instrumentalist Joseph O'keefe ("Stylish and timeless" - Woman's Weekly) just 2 weeks before they release their highly anticipated first full studio album together 'On Hire'.

The concert begins at 7:45pm at 'Boston Ta Party ', Honiton on Friday 19th October and tickets are £5 are available from Boston Tea Party.

AUTUMN PROPERTY REVIEW

With Mark Goodenough of Pennys Estate Agents

This time of year is always key in the house selling season as people look to move before (dare we say it!) Christmas looms again. We asked Mark for some key pointers for those property owners considering a move:

Q 1
How has the Autumn market been faring with the continued uncertainty in the economy?

A 1
In fact our Seaton Office had a very strong month in September for agreeing sales, with 14 properties going under offer during the period, this figure excludes our Beer & Branscombe Office which also had a busy time. October has started strongly with viewing numbers holding up so far. Above £500,000, our Fine and Country brand has also seen a good number of buyers registering with East Devon high on the list of desirable locations to settle.

Q 2
Specifically, what type of property is in demand?

A 2
A broad range of property has been selling, right from 1st time purchases such as 1 and 2 bedroom flats upto the larger, traditional family homes with 3 and 4 bedrooms. It appears that the availability of credit is slowly becoming easier and we welcome the return of first time buyers to the market who are taking advantage of the good value available.

Q 3
For those home owners considering a move, what advice can you give?

A 3
The key to a successful sale in this market is a realistic asking price-buyers are out there but they are price sensitive and are looking to achieve good value on their purchase. Clearly, our role is to achieve the best price for our clients and to give accurate guidance on the pricing-we offer a free market appraisal to all clients thinking of selling.

Q 4
So are you saying that if a realistic price is set then buyers will not look to negotiate further?

A 4
No, owners will still need to be prepared for an offer below their asking price as purchasers look to maximise value-having said that if the original price is sensible, the offer should generally be reasonably close-for example within 5% of the headline figure.

Q 5
Where do you find most buyers are coming from at the moment, are they local or from further afield?

A 5
Put simply, it is a mixture with upto 2/3rds of buyers moving into the region from out of the area-we are in a strong retirement area with many buyers drawn to the area by the coastal location and relaxed lifestyle. We are part of The Guild Of Professional Estate Agents with over 700 agents located throughout the UK this allows us to 'spread the net' in our search for buyers.

Q 6
How do you, as an agent, find the right buyer for the properties you sell?

A 6
No two properties are identical and we work hard to market our instructions as widely as possible-as you never quite know where the buyer may emerge from. We display all our properties on the major websites including Zoopla, Prime Location, FIndaproperty and Rightmove. Allied to this we recently held a London Property Exhibition in Park Lane, London which proved extremely successful with some keen interest shown from buyers looking to make their move to the Westcountry. Local advertising, such as the View From is also conducted every week!

'Super' estate agency service launches in South West

The Property Sharing Experts – a network of around 60 independent estate agents across Cornwall, Devon, Somerset and Dorset – has launched this month offering more online and in office property marketing exposure than any other agent in the South West. As the name suggests, all of the local offices work together as a 'Super' agency, sharing properties with the others to sell more homes for clients – for a sole agency fee.

Previously Westcountry team, the network has increased in numbers, expanded geographically and each office has had installed a brand new cutting edge state of the art cloud-based IT system, linking all branches and greatly enhancing the services provided to buyers and sellers.

Each member agency has a brand new web site, allowing buyers to search from the huge choice of thousands of properties available throughout the region at any given time on any of the 60 sites as well as at www.propertysharingexperts.com and other top portals.

Properties are listed in a clear format with the price and a photograph and when selected, the full description is displayed along with all available photographs and the selling agent's local dial telephone number as well as options to download a pdf version, request a viewing, register for updates, view the Energy Performance Certificate, email the details to a friend and see the location on a map using Google Maps. When viewed in Street View, the actual property is shown rather than the road.

Having entered their search criteria, buyers are instantly informed of new properties as they come to the market and price changes as they happen by direct email and SMS and they also receive weekly updates. Buyers are able to log into the system to change their search criteria at any time and also receive SMS reminders for viewings appointments.

With live data feeds and the widest marketing coverage reaching more buyers, homes have a better chance of selling more quickly and sellers also benefit from the convenience of a personal log-in to the system, allowing them to check on the progress of their marketing or sale online 24/7 with details on marketing activities, viewings information and feedback.

Property Sharing Expert estate agents offer auction as a route to market for their clients' properties, using the traditional method as well as the brand new Auction+, which opens the opportunity to buy at auction to a wider number of buyers and was introduced in the South West by the network earlier this year. And via a new panel of local, well-established and trusted solicitors including Coodes, Windeatts Solicitors, Ashfords and Gill Akaster, Property Sharing Expert estate agents offer competitive, fixed No Sale No Fee services with no hidden costs and the ability for the agents and their clients to track cases online so they know the stage their transaction is at every step of the way.

Being a member of The Property Sharing Experts comes with benefits for the agencies too, with plenty of back office support allowing the agents to concentrate on marketing and selling homes.

Its headquarters - the administration and training centre - has moved to larger offices in Pinhoe with spacious air conditioned training rooms, high speed broadband and an outstanding new training programme designed to keep the agents up to date with changes in legislation, new and best practice, the latest technology and other aspects of running an estate agency business. Meeting rooms at the administration centre are available for members' use and the support team, which coordinates group marketing activities and access to marketing materials via an online 'hub', arranges training and an annual conference, negotiates partnerships and group discounts and liaises with service providers including human resources and public relations consultancies, has expanded.

Steve Moir, chairman of The Property Sharing Experts, said: "We are delighted to launch as the Property Sharing Experts network with advanced technology as well as an expanded and enhanced range of services for buyers, sellers and extra support for our members, all of which are independently owned and run local estate agencies - totally committed to providing professional, friendly and efficient services as well as free, honest advice without obligation. The old team logos on For Sale boards, property particulars, web sites, legal documents and advertising have been replaced with those of The Property Sharing Experts and office fascias will be replaced over time. This is a bigger, better network with an enhanced range of benefits for members and their clients. The decision to make the changes was unanimous and we're looking forward to expanding the 'Super' agency further into Somerset and beyond."

Julie Wooding, Director of Fortnam Smith & Banwell, Seaton office said: "We are really excited to be part of the Property Sharing Experts network and are fully utilising the super efficient software, both of these elements combined will allow us to achieve more sales for our clients in the future"

The Property Sharing Experts is on facebook and twitter and is about to launch an iPhone App, which will be available on the App Store soon. For more information or to find your local Property Sharing Expert estate agent, look for the Property Sharing Expert logo in your local newspaper or visit www.propertysharingexperts.com.

Northcott Design & Management

Do you want to benefit from access to more than a century of building and construction experience?

Northcott Design & Management is a local company based in Colyton and has been formed by its three directors coming together to offer clients the opportunity to utilise their combined 100+ years of working in the construction industry.

Roger Brisley has been involved in architecture, planning and building regulations for more than 35 years and likes to keep up with the latest construction techniques and designs.

Paul FitzHenry is a specialist in contracts, tenders and project management and has run diverse projects locally and internationally, small and large.

Carl Northcott has been in construction and advising clients on design and building issues for more years than he cares to remember, his local experience is invaluable.

These three vastly experienced construction professionals have joined forces to offer the complete range of construction services that are essential to projects ranging from small domestic extensions and new builds to full commercial and public developments.

Your project could be:-

- At the conception stage – where you need help with design and planning issues.
- Post planning – where you need assistance with the selection of the most appropriate & cost effective builder, the administration of contracts or maybe some project management services.
- During construction and your project is encountering some unforeseen problems that require the input and support of a trouble shooter.

At Northcott Design & Management we will tailor our services to suit our clients' requirements. Whatever stage your project is at Northcott Design & Management is here to help you achieve the best result in the most cost effective manner and delivered in the best timescale.

Please contact us to receive a free one hour consultation with one of our directors.

FREE TYRE SAFETY CHECKS AVAILABLE DURING TYRE SAFETY MONTH

A record number of garages and tyre retailers in the region are showing their support for October's tyre safety month, which is organised by not-for-profit organisation TyreSafe, by offering free tyre safety checks to motorists.

The safety inspections are just one part of this year's campaign which is trying to help drivers stay safe on the roads as we approach the wettest and most treacherous months of the year.

"It's often said that the best things in life are free, and these important safety checks really are a great example of this," said Stuart Jackson, chairman, TyreSafe.

"We've devised a number of ways to help people to check their own tyres, but there really is no substitute for having a qualified professional offer their expertise and make a significant contribution to helping make our roads a safer place."

To find your nearest tyre retailer or garage offering free tyre safety checks throughout October, drivers can call the campaign hotline on 0845 301 6852.

As part of the checks, tyres will be inspected to ensure they have adequate tread depth to make them safe and legal, are inflated to the correct and are free from any cuts, lumps or bulges which may indicate internal damage.

For those drivers preferring to inspect their tyres themselves, TyreSafe has developed a range of online resources including a short animation showing how to take its 20p test. The campaign is also being supported with a new Facebook page – www.facebook.com/tyresafeUK – which asks drivers to take the 20p pledge, meaning they commit to having their tyres inspected within the next week.

For more information about TyreSafe and tyre safety, visit www.tyresafe.org.

Smaller price, bigger value: Micra now available from £7,995

Nissan has made its Micra supermini range even better value for money by bringing the price down to a city car-rivalling £7,995.

Despite the low price it still packs big car equipment with Bluetooth as standard as well as an auxiliary input for MP3 players, even on the entry-level Visia. It is also available for just £99 per month on a PCP deal.

And the value story doesn't end there; further up the range, the Acenta model is now £9,995. On top of the Visia's equipment it adds 15-inch alloys, air conditioning, front fog lamps and a leather steering wheel among other items. It is also available for just £119 per month.

The next rung on the Micra ladder is the Acenta Connect which has Nissan's award-winning Connect touch-screen satnav system combined with Bluetooth for hands-free telephone calls and music streaming. The Acenta Connect costs £10,495 and is available for £129 per month.

The good news also extends to the most stylish member of the Micra range, the ELLE; a special edition produced with the world's leading women's magazine. In addition to the Acenta Connect spec, it has climate control, a glass roof, painted 15-inch alloy wheels and ELLE badging as standard. The ELLE is now just £11,195 and available for £139 per month too.

At the top of the range sits the flagship Micra Tekna, which adds a glass roof, parking space measurement, rear parking sensors, automatic headlights, rain sensing wipers and climate control to the specification of the Acenta Connect. An extremely well-equipped car, it doesn't come with a hefty price tag, costing just £11,545 and available from only £149 per month.

As well as taking advantage of these exceptionally low prices and deals, retail buyers can also benefit from three years' low cost servicing and three years' roadside assistance for just £199.

As before, the Micra range is available with two three-cylinder petrol engines: an 80PS 1.2-litre unit or a 98PS 1.2-litre supercharged DIG-S unit. Buyers have the choice of a five-speed manual or CVT automatic transmission.

All Micra pricing and finance deals are applicable from October 1st 2012. More details are available from www.nissan.co.uk

Customer Testimonials

Hi Derek, just to say thank you for the recent work carried out on my Jag. Everything was perfect and as I was so impressed with your service, I will without hesitation use you again, and will also recommend you to others.
R&P.S Axminster

Dear Derek, I was delighted with all aspects of the service I received from Derek Lee at Westcountry Jaguar. Derek's in-depth knowledge of all things Jaguar and his speedy and expert diagnosis of the problem I had with my X-Type left me a very, very satisfied customer indeed. This was in contrast to a number of visits to various Jaguar main dealers which have often left me frustrated and occasionally less than happy with the service I received. On return, my car was valeted to a high standard and has since been running beautifully. What more can I ask! All my own words! M.M Wilmington

Hello Derek, just thought I would drop you a line to says thanks for the excellent service carried out on my S Type last week. This is only the second time I've used you, but you can rest assured I will not be taking my car anywhere else now.
L.R

Greetings Derek, as you said it was like driving a new car. I delayed emailing you until today because I wanted to check my fuel consumption after a long M Road run. Yesterday my wife and I drove to Cheddar, we covered 150 miles of which 120 would have been on the M5. I averaged 35.1 mpg which I would assume was satisfactory. Thanks for all your skilled work on my car. D.S

Dear Mr Lee, after bringing my car to you for the first time last week for a health check I wanted to let you know how pleased I was with the thoroughness, efficiency and courtesy I received. I was appalled by what you discovered, many and various parts that should have been replaced, maintained or at least brought to my attention by the local main Jaguar dealer who have regularly serviced the car since new 10 years ago. I only wish I had brought the car into you sooner but rest assured it will be coming back to you from now on.
K.W Sidmouth

Derek, thought I would express my thanks regarding my recent service on my XK8. I was first of all delighted to find someone so enthusiastic and knowledgeable, and local. I am really pleased with your attention to detail, and your friendly approach. P.E

Derek, just a quick note to say a very big thank you for looking after my Jag X Type so well over the past four years. It got put on the back burner, but you put it right for me, now going like a dream. Many thanks and I'll see you next year.
G.G Honiton

This is now the third time I have used Mr Lee's services and the quality and attention to detail of his work is quite extraordinary. I would not contemplate going elsewhere and would totally recommend his services to anyone who cares about their Jag. Thanks Derek, regards J.B

Hello Derek, A quick note to say thanks for sorting out the problem with my car`s handbrake. All is now well again. Car also now drives like new after the service you did.
Cheers, L.R

Hi Derek,great job, the car drives like a dream, thanks very much for your hard work and also for lending me your pride and joy. I'll be calling on your services again at the end of the summer for wax oiling as you recommended if your still up for it. Best regards, S.B

Dear Mr Lee, I would just like to say thank you for the excellent work you carried out on my Jag when servicing it. As you know the car is new to me and I wanted you to look at it from front to back as well as service it. Your attention to detail and overall knowledge of the XKR ( or indeed any Jag) is staggering. I have never had doorhinges and even the filler cap hinge greased as part of a service before, even by a main dealer. This just underlines your passion for Jaguars.
Although this is the first time I have used your services, I will most definitly use you again for anything that is required for my XKR and would thoroughly recommend you to any Jag owner. You have given a better value for money and a better quality of service than I could have expected.
Oh and thank you for cleaning the interior of the car, I didn't notice until I got home and didn't have a chance to say thanks ( I had been meaning to do it for a while ). Best regards, A.L

Derek, Just to let you know that I was very satisfied with the work carried out on my 'S' Type last week. I was really impressed with the professionalism and attention to detail which, coupled with your courtesy, obvious enthusiasm for the marque and reasonable prices, made the whole thing well worth a trip over the border to Devon. This was the first time we had met but I will certainly be back and will recommend you to others. Regards, J.V. Bridport, Dorset

D-LIGHT a driving school with the very latest teaching aids that can help reduce the time in learning efficient control skills.

16 PLUS

Sixteen year olds will be D-Lighted to know that they can start to learn to drive if they are sixteen years old and hold a Provisional Drivers Licence. This can be done at West Point, but to make this affordable, you would need to find two like minded friends or mates and for all of you to make a firm commitment by signing up to a Complete Vehicle Control Course at West Point. It's a very good way to learn vehicle control skills safely before going onto the main roads. It's good fun, very rewarding and cost effective, five saturday mornings for as little as £175, you do need your Provisional Drivers Licence and parents approval and signing. Want to know more contact David Light 01404 871400.

GOALS KEEP FLOWING FOR FENNY

GOAL hungry FENITON smashed a magnificent seven goals for the third time this season.

The latest team to be put to the sword were TIPTON ST JOHN who were beaten 7-0 as Mark Kingdon's side reached the quarter-final of the East Devon Senior cup. Paul Dowling (2), Dave O'-Connor (2), Julian Bolt (2) led the goal parade.

Not such good news from Beer Albion. The Fishermen went down 2-1 at Exmouth Amateurs. An unfortunate Andy Foster own goal proved to be the decider. Matt Rowson had earlier grabbed the visitors' consolation.

Sam Elstub netted twice to give SIDBURY UNITED an excellent 4-1 win against CULM UNITED in Division 1.

OFFWELL RANGERS won a thrilling Division 3 contest against NORTH TAWTON 5-4, and just across the valley at UPOTTERY the home team were 2-0 winners against THORVERTON with Sam Winslade getting both goals.

Elsewhere, FENITON Reserves' 100 per cent record in division six perished at Silverton where they went down 2-1.

LYME REGIS 5 MILLWEY RISE 1
LYME Regis took full advantage of Winsham United's postponement at Farway to move to the top of the Premier division for the first time this season.

The Seasiders, for the second week in succession, also laid down a significant marker against one of the newly-promoted teams from division one as they came from behind to beat highly rated neighbours Millwey Rise 5-1.

Lyme thought they were denied an early penalty when in-form striker Julien Simier was felled by a trio of Rise defenders - but referee Jeff Farley thought otherwise.

The Devonians, missing regular centre-backs Michael Knight and club skipper Matt Hall, struck first in a tight first-half when ex-Colyton striker Calum Somers surged onto a ball over the top of the home defence before deftly lobbing over 'keeper Will Meech on the half hour.

But Lyme were level seven minutes later when Steve Batey nodded home midfield colleague Mark Bailey's precise free-kick.

Rise went close before the break with an effort that rebounded off the crossbar.

The Seasiders got their noses in front ten minutes after the restart when Simier netted into the bottom corner from 16 yards.

The killer third goal arrived soon after when Batey headed home his second off the game.

And the hosts were finally away and clear when top-scorer Simier cracked a shot into the top corner for his sixth goal of the season.

The scoring was completed five minutes from time when Danny Rudge latched onto a long punt from Meech before slotting home for a classic route-one goal.

South West Peninsula League, Axminster Town 5 Exeter Civil Service 1

AXMINSTER Town moved into second place in Division One, their highest position ever, with this five-star performance before a big crowd at Sector Lane on Saturday (writes Philip Evans)

After two games in which they have struggled to convert their chances, the Tigers' attack, with big Peter Knox up front for one of his rare appearances, put five past the side who beat them 3-1 earlier in the season.

The victory boosted Axminster's points tally to 17 for the season and they now lie just one point behind leaders Newton Abbott.

Axe looked much more potent up front with Knox, the Doncaster-based prison warder who married an Axminster girl, testing the Civil Service 'keeper early in the game with a stinging shot that was parried away, and Jonny Hurford looking his usual dangerous self.

Both sides played some excellent inter-passing football in the opening exchanges but it wasn't until the 24th minute that Civil Service tested Luke Ashford, the home 'keeper, steered the ball over the bar when Steve Morish forced the normally reliable Wes Tarr into a mistake.

As the half progressed Axminster looked the more dangerous in front of goal with Alex Wheatley going close of two occasions before, in the 32nd minute, he made it third time lucky with a curling shot from the edge of the box to open the scoring.

Civil Service did not look like they were about to capitulate and the Tigers defence, with skipper Darren Stewart prominent, were tested on a number of occasions before the visitors were back on terms when Josh Burrell demonstrated excellent close ball control before slotting the ball wide of Ashford in the 43rd minute.

Then came three minutes of the most exciting football seen at Sector Lane this season.

Axe regained the lead in the 44th minute when midfielder Jack Knight's stinging shot gave the keeper no chance followed by a decisive Stewart header from a Hurford corner which sent the Tigers in at half-time with a deserved 3-1 lead.

After two dismal home attacking performances, the Sector faithful queued for their half-time cuppa and piece of cake in a much happier mood.

The visitors started strongly after the break with Ashford soon in action, tipping a dangerous free-kick over the bar. Lewis Crouch had a great chance to make it 4-1 but his tamely lobbed the ball into the keepers arms and then the clever Richie Emmett brought admiring gasps from the crowd with a near-miss overhead kick.

Axminster's superiority in front of goal was hammered home in the 70th minute when Know latched on to a through ball and slotted the ball home to make it 4-1 and five minutes later nearly made it five when he blazed wide.

The 5-1 scoreline was completed in the 86th minute when Emmett demonstrated some exquisite skill in the box before being pulled back by a defender. Wheatley converted with ease from the penalty spot.

Having finished second from bottom last season who would have thought that Axminster would be challenging for the top spot so early in the new campaign.

But the Tigers were well worth this victory and with spirit riding high Paul Ashford's side are now real contenders.

Axminster Town: Luke Ashford; Wes Tarr, Darren Dtewart, Corry Couch, Dan Beer; John Hurdord, Lewis Crouch, Alex Wheatley, Jack Night; Peter Knox, Richie Emmett. Subs: Eliott Dyer, Ben Vine; not used Tom Perryman, Ollie Hlghet, Ben Cole.

SIDMOUTH TOWN 1
ON A drizzly Wednesday evening Sidmouth visited their neighbours for what turned out to be a keenly fought contest.

The Vikings handed Peninsula debuts to Dan Broom and Steven Rampaul as they sought a first win of the season.

The Robins started quickly and Town's defence had to be on their toes to keep the lively Robins' attack at bay.

Town's strikers were looking dangerous on the odd occasion that the side kept possesion.

However just as the half time whistle was to be blown the Robins deservedly took the lead when after great defending by Mark Badcock, twice, the ball was cleared to Robins skipper Brett Wright who rifled it past 'keeper Jack Burgess into the top corner.

Town made a few adjustments at the interval and straight from the restart put the Robins' defence under pressure.

This resulted in a couple of corners by Darren Thomas in quick succession and from the second of these Dan Broom stroked home a superb left foot finish to square the tie.

Both sides continued to press for a winner but neither side managed to add to their tally.

Paddy's view
"A fantastic effort from all 14 players of which the defence and keeper can take huge credit, with Mark Badcock the pick of the bunch."

CARLSBERG SOUTH WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE
Division One East
Sidmouth Town 1 Galmpton 2
YET again the Vikings lost out by the odd goal at Manstone in their search for three valuable points.

Town started brightly and took the lead on 15 minutes through Mike Stamp who was first to react to a loose ball in the visitors' penalty area.

Matt Rasmussen then had his close range effort well saved by the visitors' 'keeper and Alex Raistrick cleared off his own line at the opposite end.

Half-time was imminent when the Vikings lost possession in their own half and 10 seconds later Galmpton were level with Vikings custodian Burgess given no chance.

The second-half saw few chances with Rasmussen firing over on 60 minutes and Galmpton hitting the bar on 75.

Just when all present thought the game was heading for a draw the visitors capitalised on sloppy play and the visiting striker raced through the home defence to beat Burgess to the ball and squeeze home at the near post.

There was still time for the referee to disallow Stamp's effort as ball and 'keeper ended in the net in what looked a fair challenge.

Paddy's View:
"THE players are a great bunch and spirit is high, we need to have more threat in the final third and sometimes our final pass lacks quality.

"The mistakes we are making at the back are being highlighted by our inability to create a lot of chances at the opposite end.

"We don't have a game next Saturday the 2nds play Halwill at home (3pm ko) so we will use the break to try and strenghen the squad."

RESULTS: Division One - Uplowman 59 Tip Top Trees 11.

WITH the just the one game taking place in division one this week it was an opportunity for Uplowman to achieve a first – holding the top spot in the league.

But in order to get there they had to beat the young Tip Top Trees side that has been struggling since their return to the top flight.

With Viv Grant once again back to her best for Uplowman they dominated the game from the start and despite hard work from the 3Ts, and especially Hayley Spiller, the Trees could not get back into the game.

As it was Uplowman recorded their highest score of the campaign to date – their 59-11 win moving them clear at the top, whilst the defeat for Tip Top Trees left them still looking for their first points of this winter campaign.

Division Two - JD Tyres 34 Pixies 14, Sidmouth Toucans 29 Otter Valley Dairy 12, Hi Q 47 Water Babies 3.

Hi Q were up against Water Babes, and with Bev Parris once again orchestrating the moves for Hi Q they proved much too strong for the newcomers.

Water Babes worked hard throughout the game, with Sam Clarke putting in a determined performance, but Hi Q ran out winners by 47.

The other unbeaten side Pixies did not fare so well when they came up against JD Tyres.

Emma Griffin put in a good display for Pixies and the game started evenly. As the game progressed Tanya Broom got better and better for JD Tyres and Pixies were not able to find an answer as JD recorded a fine 34-14 goal victory.

The third game of the evening saw Sidmouth Toucans up against the division's other newcomers – Otter Valley Dairy.

OVD, with Sarah Anscott in fine form, recorded their first score in double figures, in their 12- 29 defeat at the hands of the Toucans with Sarah Burston playing well.

AXE CLIFF with Janet Dack

Senior Club

SINCE losing to Long Sutton back in March the Seniors have gone unbeaten at Axe Cliff with eight wins and two drawn matches.

The eighth was last Monday in the final home fixture of the season and with a four-and-a-half to one-and-a-half result avenged the defeat suffered at High Bickington in July.

Although two games were comfortable wins the remaining four went to the final green with three being halved and the other a home victory.

Winning pairings for Axe Cliff included Chris Walker / Peter Knighting, John Hanna / Leighton Morgan and Jack Bannister / Iain Bain.

The half points were won by Rob Grove / Chris Jowett, Dave Weston / Gilbert Cox and Mick Tomes / John White.

On Friday the Winter League got under way. The format is the same as last year, a pairs 15 hole Stableford with the best six scores from each team to count in the final analysis.

The winners on Friday, posting an opening score of 36 points, were Dave Sammons / Peter Rollason.

Two teams were one point behind with 35 points and second place on countback went to Geoff Hubbard / Mick Tomes with Clive Davie / Roger Wright having to settle for third place.

Main Club

LAST Sunday the main club played for the October Medal where the winner of the first division was Peter Pertherbridge with Alan Morgan in second place.

The second division winner was Alex Palmer with Stuart Dickson taking second place.

Ladies

THIS Wednesday, before the rain, the ladies competed to see who would represent the Axe Cliff Golf Club in the Daily Mail Foursomes Competition, a national event played during 2013.

The winners were Helen Kenworthy and Sandra Walker with Pat Ayshford and Janet Dack in second place!

HONITON with Andy Wagner

Devonians v Foreigners

THE annual Devonians v Foreigners competition took place last weekend under clear blue skies.

This year introduced a twist to the competition as the 12 men's teams were augmented by four ladies teams.

It was they who had really gone to town on the event with the home team sporting 'County' green shirts and their bags decorated with Corn Dollies and madly waving County 'Saint Petroc' flags.

The Foreigners identified themselves in the traditional manner with sun hat's and flip flops and acted like they owned the place.

Anyone would have thought it wasn't a serious affair but believe you me nothing could be further from the truth!

We played under strict Ryder Cup rules of match play teams with the victors gaining the most number of wins. If my own match was anything to go by the games were hard fought with our result ending in a 'gentlemanly' half on the very last hole and although the games were still in the balance right to the end the Foreigners finally came out on top.

All that was left was for defeated Devonian Captain Paul Dimond to present the trophy to the victorious Foreigners Captain Dave Morgan.

Monthly Stableford

THE Monthly Sableford was played on a completely dry course without any run at all.

The greens would hold a ball but that was no advantage if you were still 200 yards from the hole.

Only one man managed to beat par with Div1's Ed Reece notching an impressive 39pts. Julian Netherway came second with 33pts leaving Jim Wallis in third with 31pts.

Div2 was a much tighter affair with Dave Wilson's 33pts beating Merv Blackmore and Tim Morris respectively on count back

Seniors Section

AFTER the downpours of the previous day PAUL DIMENTit was something of a surprise to find the course open (although only with hedgehog trolleys) for the Seniors Stableford and Eclectic 1.

A few cried off, but 43 braved the wet conditions and a couple of them positively enjoyed themselves. Jim Wallis carried the day with 39 points to top Division 1. Alan Pollock did well with a 36, followed by Andy Sharland, John Kerr and John Discombe.

Division 2 was won by Mike Jones with 38 points, closely followed by Phil Faulkener and Dave Morgan with 37 each.

Paul Ritchie and Ashley Murray took the last two prizes.

■ WELL DONE: Devonian's Captain Paul Diment presenting the trophy to the Foreigner's Captain Dave Morgan

SCRUM-DOWN rugby round-up

WITH KEITH JENKIN

Depleted Sidmouth slayed by Saxons

DEVONPORT SERVICES 31 HONITON 3

I DID intimate after watching the Honiton/Bude game that the Allhallows side should concentrate on doing the basics well. They did not do so and this rather turgid encounter was laced with handling errors from both sides.

Services scored an unconverted try and a penalty goal during the first-half, while Honiton responded with a Meadows penalty to trail 8-3 at the halfway stage.

The encounter continued in the vein of the first-half throughout the third quarter, before the home side stretched away and put the issue beyond doubt by scoring three tries during the final ten minutes play, leaving Honiton rather bemused and disappointed by the end.

The Honiton second side was left kicking its heels when opponents, Wessex withdrew from the fixture.

PAIGNTON SAXONS 31 SIDMOUTH 15

SIDMOUTH took a shored-up back division to Paignton but, although the home pack were efficient in going through the phases during a evenly contested first period, they showed little penetration, while the visitors backs looked threatening when in possession.

It was Paignton who drew first blood however, converting a penalty goal before the game was five minutes old, but Sidmouth hit back with a similar effort, kicked by Whelan, around the end of the first quarter.

He kicked another a couple of minutes later to give his side the lead, only for Paignton to equalise on the half hour.

The home side took the lead just before the break when, having followed a kick ahead and caught the Sidmouth defence in possession, they won a penalty. They kicked the award to the corner, went for the catch and drive that was held up.

They then tried to push the subsequent scrum over but were foiled, the referee said illegally, and a penalty try was awarded. The try was goaled and Paignton now led 13-6 at the break.

Another home try came immediately after the restart. Paignton regained possession, drove forward through their eight before putting width on the ball. Their winger was held up but they pushed the subsequent scrum over.

The try, although unconverted took the home side clear and, although Whelan then narrowed the gap from the tee, his three points was cancelled out by a similar home effort.

Two subsequent long-range efforts by the Sidmouth place kicker did give his side hope and, with the score line standing at 21-15 on the hour, they were certainly in the contest.

The Paignton pack was becoming more dominant however and play was confined to Sidmouth's territory throughout the final quarter.

The defence coped however but, after Pyne saw yellow for collapsing a maul, their seven-man pack was again pushed over.

This try was converted and a last minute penalty goal took Paignton clear, leaving Sidmouth without even a losing bonus point to show for their afternoon's efforts.

CHARD 24 CULLOMPTON 23

QUITE simply this was one of the closest and most exciting games to be seen at Park Field for many a long day. It started on a sombre note as the big crowd stood for a minute in memory of Ryan Sparks.

On a pitch that was unsurprisingly, just a little heavy, it was the visitors who drew first blood, kicking a penalty goal through Toms after just two minutes to lead 3-0.

The home side however then embarked on something of a purple patch. They played some scintillating rugby but were matched by an excellent Cullompton defence.

A try had to come however and it duly did when, after some ten minutes of pressure, Lee Carter the home seven drove over close to the posts for Nicholls to convert.

Chard's 7-3 lead did not last long however. Toms, whose place kicking was a real feature kicked another penalty around the end of the first quarter to reduce the arrears, and then went on to give his side the lead by converting a third effort on the half hour.

Nicholls did respond in kind a minute later and Chard led 10-9 but the final few minutes of the half belonged to the visitors. They turned pressure into points when centre Pearce got over for Toms to convert, and when he converted Roberts' try just before the break he had given his side a very real cushion, for the score line now read 10-23 in Cullompton's favour at the halfway stage.

Chard were looking down the barrel at this stage and it was imperative that they scored next. They did just that within five minutes of the restart.

Having won a penalty they kicked the award to the corner, won the lineout and substitute prop Simon Jenkins bundled his way over from the ensuing maul. Nicholls landed the conversion and Chard were back to within a score.

The home side tried to emulate this on the hour mark by kicking another penalty to the corner but were sent empty away by the Cullompton defence, and at this point their effort received something of a setback when Carter saw yellow for some technical infringement or other.

Toms, who had not looked like missing a place kick all afternoon was just wide with the ensuing place kick from some forty yard out and in front, and Chard breathed again.

Their wide runners were beginning to give the visitors' defence the odd problem however, although the scoreboard remained at 17-23 until five minutes before the end.

Out half Doak then made a break. He delayed his pass before timing it well to put skipper Parsons into the gap. He took the ball at pace and charged over.

Nicholls notched the vital conversion and Chard held on to claim the narrowest of wins after a game that was certainly too close for comfort.

PREVIEW

THE local league programme continues on Saturday next, with both sides having home games. SIDMOUTH entertain OLDFIELD OLD BOYS, a side who have, strangely, conceded a game this season; an unusual happening at this level.

They have won on a couple of occasions however, with one of their successes coming against North Dorset who lost by a distance at the Blackmore a couple of weeks ago. Much will depend on how well Sidmouth can continue to cope with their current injury list. In the normal course of events I would predict a home win. As for now ...?

Not too many years ago HONITON would regularly beat Saturday's opponents, EXETER SARACENS by demolishing them up front. Those days are gone however as both sides have climbed the divisions in recent times.

The visitors, having enjoyed a good start to their current league campaign, have lost their three out of their last four games, including a heavy defeat at Bude.

Honiton will certainly be targeting to win this one, but they will have to be at their best if they are to do so.

As to the second sides, Honiton seconds should run out winners against visitors Tiverton thirds who are struggling currently, while Sidmouth seconds will most certainly have their hands full at Torquay seconds. Sidmouth thirds are due to take on Topsham seconds.

FIXTURES - 20th October

Honiton v Exeter Saracens; Honiton 2nd v Tiverton 3rd; Sidmouth v Oldfield old Boys; Sidmouth 2nd v Torquay 2nd (away); Sidmouth 3rd v Topsham 2nd (away).

Axminster U10 2 Millwey Rise 6

A SECOND-HALF hat-trick from Archie Knox as Millwey Rise came out on top in this local-derby.

Strikes from Josh Daines, Billy Knox and Zac Featherstone saw Rise in contrail at 3-0 at the interval.

Ax reduced the arrears to 3-1 before Archie Know bagged his triple, the second of which came after a jinking run that took him past five defenders. The Tigers bagged a late consolation.

Seaton Town U11 3 Heavitree Typhoons 3

SEATON Town showed great character as they battled back from 2-0 down at half-time to snatch a draw against visiting Heavitree Typhoons.

Seaton, playing uphill in the second-half got back into level with Edward Kenworthy scoring two cracking goals,.

However, Heavitree then converted a penalty for a foul to restore their lead. Seaton then soaked up the Heavitree pressure and counter attacked quickly with new signing Alfie Bullmore scoring to level the match.

The excitement was not over with Heavitree being awarded another penalty in the last few seconds of the game but Seaton goalie Alfie Tucker-Vincent made a fantastic save and earned Seaton a 3-3 draw. Man of the Match: Edward Kenworthy.

Colyton 3 Seaton 1

A LEWIS Cottam second-half goal couldn't save Seaton from a 3-1 defeat at neighbours Colyton. Seaton Man-of-the-Match: Ricky Littley.

Sidmouth Raiders U11s 1 Colyton 3

TWO Tom Lambert goals and a late penalty from skipper Matt Patmore saw Colyton Cobras secure a well-deserved 3-1 win At Sidmouth on Saturday.

Archie Rowe, in action against his old team, scored the Raiders consolation.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with Judy Davey

HONITON Running Club held its own Cotleigh Canters last Sunday with runners blessed with good weather.

Following a frosty start to the day, the sun soon showed it still had some warmth about it and this made ideal running conditions for competitors.

The races were based at Cotleigh Village Hall and runners could choose between a 3k fun run or the road 5k and 10k races all running the quiet country lanes of Cotleigh.

The 5k race was won by Cheltenham's Jon Bird in 13.43. HRC's junior members dominated the first few places in this race starting with Henry Riddle who finished 2nd overall in 20.10 with Iain Ross hot on his heels finishing in 3rd place in 20.28.

HRC juniors also had the first and second ladies home; Ruth Squires who finished 8th overall in 21.38 and Anna Lamb 17th in 25.53. HRC's president Alan Rowe MBE ran with Wayne Spiller with The Baton finishing in 22nd place in 27.51. There were 32 finishers overall.

Other HRC 5k finishers: 5th Jack Elsom 20.41, 6th Reuben Heeler-Frood 21.18, 7th Arthur Heeler-Frood 21.25, 9th Sam Taylor 22.14, 10th Rowan Westall 22.51, 11th Harry Whiteley 22.55, 13th Thomas Lilley 25.02, 19th Morgan Davy 26.40, 21st Jake Harvey 27.24

The 10k race was won by Robert Orton in the great time of 35 minutes 1 second. HRC's own Ian Stewart had a great run to come 2nd in 38:12. Graham Reeves was next back finishing 7th in 41:17.

Hadleigh Davies made his debut race for the club in style to come 8th in 42:33.

The first lady overall was HRC's Ceri Oak who is well on the way to full fitness after battling an injury for almost a year. She came 16th overall in 46:33.

Other HRC 10k runners: 22nd Nick Bradley-Carter 48:02, 25th Lesley Crocker 48:29, 35th Linda Pike 55:26, 37th Sam Shute 57:20, 40th Kathy Layzell 59:38 and 41st Carol Turnham 61:12. There were 43 finishers.

The first runner across the finishing line in the 3k fun run was Edmond Grierson of Sidmouth Running Club in 13.43.

Most of the older HRC juniors had taken part in the 5k but the younger members were well represented with Sasha Davy coming 2nd overall and 1st U13G and James Oak tackling this distance for the first time to come 15th in 17.43. There 48 finishers in this race.

Thanks to the people of Cotleigh for supporting the run and providing the car park. Money raised will go to local causes.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter

SUNDAY Morning started bright and crisp leading to perfect race conditions for the second running of The Cotleigh Canter's 3K, 5K and 10K road races.

AVR had two Club Pup's - sister's Caitlin and Poppy Tooze (Junior's who are too young to join the AVR Junior Section) in the 3k and two AVR Juniors. Caitlin came 11th out of 48 finishers in 16:52, 1st Under 8 Girl, with mentor Alice FitzHenry 12th in 16:53, 2nd Under 16 Girl. Poppy was 37th in 22:31, 8th under 11 Girl, with her mentor Jermaine Day 41st in 23:03, 3rd under 16 Girl; a super effort for her first run for the Club.

Ethan Day was the first AVR finisher in the 5K, 4th out of 32 in 20:40. Ben Franklin was 14th in 25:17, just holding off Adam Burrough who was 15th in 25:47. Caleb Sinclaire finished 20th in 27:18, just ahead of his mum, Kathryn Alexander who was 25th in 30:08.

Irene Croad ran well to finish 27th in 32:50 and Liz Thomas broke her PB by finishing 31st in 39:55. Harry Moore, still plagued by a calf injury was 32nd in 50:14.

There were 43 entries in the 10K and for the first time Chris Driver was the first AVR home, 10th in 43:53, he was just ahead of Dave Thomas, 12th, 44:32 and Ian Clements 14th, 45:07.

Wayne Tooze ran well to finish 23rd, 48:06 as did Steven Lewis 28th, 50:48. Sam Tooze was 34th, 55:13. Janette Mack has really improved lately and had another great run finishing 36th, 56:39 as did Sue Venn who was 38th in 57:35. Mike Venn completed in 1:07:40.

Many thanks to Honiton RC for putting on another great event.

◆ Tom Bland completed the 12K multi-terrain Studland Stampede 10th in 52:15; a brilliant effort.

◆ Lesley Adams and Carol Austin were each members of different teams of 4 running the Coventry half-marathon.

Congratulations to Carol's team that won the relay and received a splendid trophy from the Mayor of Coventry. Lesley's team finished well up the order of the 22 teams as she describes it on a course that was rather hilly, more like Devon than the Midlands.

Lesley had a busy weekend as on Saturday she completed the Cannon Hill park run 227th in 27:17, a considerable improvement over last week.

Honiton Hornets 5 Okehampton Columbines 1

A VERY mixed afternoon weather-wise (some sun with rain interspersed accompanied by a cold wind) hovered over the players for the past weekend's match; in which Honiton Hornets ladies' hockey team played host to Dartmoor-based Okehampton.

Just three minutes into the game a penalty corner was awarded and the home side's Sophie George made no mistake in opening the scoring.

This was followed by two expertly taken goals from Katryn Tucker – the first again scored from a penalty corner; while the other resulted from very skilful stick work as she manoeuvred the ball around opposition before sweeping the ball to the backboard.

But the visitors were not to be underestimated and came out all guns blazing for the second-half; which they began to do in short order when one of their players defeated the Honiton defence to put the ball over the goal line.

However, Honiton recovered and scored a further two goals through Kat Tucker and Amy Phillips – both off penalty corners.

Player of the Match: Amy Phillips

Vikings point disappears at the death

By Howard Larcombe

SIDMOUTH Town's tough start to the season continued on Saturday. The Vikings, looking all-set for a morale-boosting point from the visit of Galmpton United, suffered the heartache of conceding late-on to lose 2-1 (see report on page 61).

The Vikings, with no fixture scheduled for this Saturday, have time to regroup as they continue their search for a first win of the season.

Meanwhile, Feniton hammered Tipton St John 7-0 at Acland Park to reach the last eight of the East Devon Senior cup. Fenny are also rumoured to be about to boosted by the arrival of veteran 'keeper Brian Cann from Toolstation League outfit Willand Rovers.

Fenny return to Devon & Exeter league action at the weekend when they entertain the Exeter University students Reserve team.

Down in division one Sidbury United moved up to second spot after Sam Elstrub scored twice in a 4-1 home win over Culm United.

In division three there were useful home wins for both Upottery and Offwell.

The Otters won 2-0 against Thorverton to move up to fourth spot ahead of Saturday's visit by Dolphin.

Meanwhile, Offwell, who edged home after a nine-goal classic against North Tawton, travel to Lympstone.

In division six Feniton Reserves slipped to fourth after a 2-1 defeat at new leaders Silverton. Fenny make the short trip to East Budleigh at the weekend.

Colaton Raleigh beat Woodbury 5-2 to make progress in the Bill Slee Cup. Raleigh entertian Beacon Knight at teh weekend. But Sidmouth Town Reserves are out after they were thrashed 6-1 at Dawlish United.

The Vikings travel to Halwill on Saturday

Ottery St Mary Reserves thrashed Tedburn St Mary 5-0 to move up to third place in division seven.

The Otters' second-string will hope for more of the same as they travel to league newboys Open Space International on Saturday.

Finally Honiton could be gearing up for a giant-killing, of sorts, when they entertain division one strugglers Colyton in the Devon Senior cup tie at Mountbatten Park.
